Authorities Having Jurisdiction (AHJs)

AHJ applicants may alternatively submit other documents in lieu of the following:

REQUIRED	ALTERNATIVE
DESIGN INVOICE	AHJs with in-house design work may alternatively submit a description of design work on official AHJ letterhead supplemented by an invoice or other accounting document(s) clearly showing incurred design costs and the dates the costs were incurred. The installation site address must be listed.
PERMIT	A letter on official AHJ letterhead explaining the AHJ is a self-permitting agency and that a permit for the approved EV charger project at the installation site is not required. The installation site address must be listed.
INSTALLATION PURCHASE INVOICE	AHJs with in-house installation may alternatively submit a description of the installation work on official AHJ letterhead supplemented by an invoice or other accounting document(s) clearly showing incurred installation costs and the dates costs were incurred. The installation site address must be listed.
FINAL INSPECTION CARD	A letter on official AHJ letterhead explaining the AHJ is a self-permitting agency and that the approved EV charger project at the installation site is complete and in compliance with all municipal laws, rules, codes and regulations. ### Applicant Design and Installation Options

As an applicant for new gas or electric service, you can choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to design new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. You can also choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to construct all or a portion of new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design and the construction work, to assist you in making a selection. You will then have the opportunity to choose either a qualified contractor to perform the design/or construction work.

In accordance with PG&E's filed tariffs, electric trenching, conduits, substructures and gas service trenching are the applicant's responsibility. Once you make a decision about who will perform the work, if you subsequently change your selection, you will be responsible for any re-engineering charges incurred as a result of that change.

You should become familiar with the applicant design installation requirements, including PG&E's Applicant Design Guide and General Terms and Conditions, before you make your selection. For copies of these documents and/or for additional information, visit Document, Preliminary Statement Part A www.pge.com/newconstruction/processguide/step1/appdes.html or request information by calling 1-877-PGE-SRVC.

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Are you currently planning to use a design contractor? Yes      No

Agreement to Pay and Signature

I understand that service will be engineered and installed based upon the information provided here. I agree to pay PG&E, on demand, for all work PG&E performs and all costs PG&E incurs for this application for service. Application

You can apply for any Building Permit here on the City of Santa Clara's online Permit Center. To create an application you will need all required electronic plans and documents and complete information on your project.

Incomplete Applications

Incomplete or unpaid applications will be discarded after 30 days.

Upon submitting your application, if you had not already logged in, you need to create an account with a login name and password to submit your application. Once the application is submitted, a completeness review will be done to determine if all required information has been submitted. If any information is missing, the reviewer will mark the application as incomplete and an email will be sent to you letting you know the problems with the application. You can then log back in, update the application and resubmit with the missing information.

Once the application is accepted and plan check fee paid, a Building Plan Check number (same as Building Permit number) will be issued to you. This number will be required to view the plan review comments and permit status online. Then, the submitted plans and document will be reviewed by the appropriate departments. Any comments about the project will be available here on the City of Santa Clara's Online Permit Center when you login to your account.

Re-Submittal

You can resubmit the revised plans and responses to plan check comments online using the same password and building permit number. To facilitate the recheck process, revisions to the original drawings shall be clouded with the revision number and submittal shall be accompanied with a transmittal letter clarifying the revisions and submitted documents. File document shall be identified with '1' for first re-submittal, '2' for second re-submittal, etc...The review process will be repeated as above until approval by all required departments.

Permit Issuance

After the plans are approved for permit issuance, a minimum of two (2) sets of final building plans with the stamps and signatures of the California licensed architects or engineers must be submitted to the Permit Center together with the permit fees. Three (3) sets of drawings are required if the project requires Fire department's approval. Also, additional set of drawings may be required for the county record. The permit will be issued at the Permit Center.
